WORDS OF WELCOME

Dear Leaders,

The United States is truly a unique nation with diversity spanning ethnicities, races, national ancestries, identities, and every form of political and social affiliation. From suburbs to small towns to large cities, faith plays a crucial role in uniting us across this diversity. Americans practice the full breadth of religious affiliations that shape the human spirit, with all faiths connected by the conviction that we are our brothers' and sisters' keeper. Our great nation is also united by its principles and its ceaseless movement toward protecting and valuing everyone, regardless of who they are.

We have a long road ahead in this journey, and it was for this reason that we launched National Faith & Blue Weekend. This event is a way for people of all backgrounds to work together with those who uphold our laws to create a more just and equitable union.

My team and I are at your disposal as you plan your event. I hope this toolkit proves to be a valuable resource, and if you need anything else, please do not hesitate to reach out at info@faithandblue.org or 404.605.7000. Thank you for being a part of this landmark event.

Kind Regards,

Reverend Markel Hutchins

GETTING STARTED

Thank you for your interest in organizing an activity for National Faith & Blue Weekend. Your participation will help community members and law enforcement connect on a personal level and, in doing so, create safer and stronger neighborhoods.

MovementForward, Inc., will be here each step of the way to help you put together a successful event. As you design your activity, we ask that it (1) involve both a faith-based organization and a law enforcement office, (2) be positive, and (3) be open to the general public.

Engaging Important Issues: At the heart of Faith & Blue is creating meaningful connections between law enforcement and the public. For this reason it is recommended that, to the degree you are comfortable, your activity acknowledges and explores the important conversations that are currently occurring around policing, justice, and community relations. Some of the activities — like the essay contest, book discussion, crucial conversation, and vigil for understanding — lend themselves more readily to engaging these topics, but all activities can facilitate important discussions around policing. We encourage you to be brave, open, and kind as you design and implement your activity.

To help in your planning, we have created the following checklist of what you'll need to identify as you plan your activity.

REACHING OUT

As you start planning, you will want to reach out to a co-host, which will be either a local law enforcement agency or a faith-based organization. You should plan to reach out at least 15 days before your event, if possible. You can inquire later, but you run the risk of the potential partner not being able to participate due to scheduling.

To Reach Out to Your Law Enforcement Agency

Conduct a Google search for your local law enforcement agency and identify the name of either the Police Chief, Sheriff, or Community Liaison. Next, place a call to the department and ask to speak to this individual.

A note about recruitment: National Faith & Blue Weekend provides the opportunity for people to be exposed to law enforcement and to learn about the profession. For almost all of the activities, flyers can be provided about joining the local agency, and officers can discuss their experience in joining the force.

To Reach Out to a Local Faith-Based Organization

Ideally, it is best to start with a faith-based organization that a member of your department attends and has a good relationship with the faith leader. If neither you nor your colleagues have a contact, you can contact us at info@faithandblue.org and we will provide you with a list of local faith-based organizations.

[Short paragraph about the event.]

Faith & Blue Weekend is a national event with activities in communities across the country that bring together law enforcement and residents to build connections, create mutual understanding, and enhance justice and reconciliation.

OVERVIEW OF ACTIVITIES

Why Activities

Activities — otherwise known as engagements — provide the setting for the formation of meaningful connections between the public and law enforcement. They enable residents to better understand the perspectives of law enforcement officers, who in turn learn about the needs and perceptions of those they protect and serve. There is no substitute for building bonds through a participatory action. The type of activities you organize should be a reflection of your community — if you are working to build partnership, consider a service project. If you are starting from scratch, consider a picnic. If you believe that your community needs to take on important discussions, consider a forum. And if you don’t have substantial capacity, consider a “Quick Activity.”

Or — if you can, do an “all of the above” approach!

This toolkit provides a variety of activities, grouped by type. Moreover, on page 58 you will find 100 other activity ideas. Finally, on pages 59–60, this toolkit offers guidance for next steps in the form of a campaign.

Each sample full activity detailed in this toolkit has different advantages. Some can more easily be held indoors or involve relatively less preparation time, and some might be an important selection if there has recently been a controversial incident. This matrix can help evaluate these factors when selecting activities, but it does not mean that these considerations are rigid. For example, a community dialogue can be child-friendly or an open house can feature space to discuss important issues.

Sample Weekend Calendar

There is no minimum or maximum number of activities that you can organize. However, an ideal implementation of Faith & Blue involves leveraging the entire four-day weekend. Here is a sample of how you could plan a weekend's set of activities. As community experts, feel free to get creative as you organize your activities and events.

Rolling Tour

A Rolling Tour is a powerful complement to organized activities. During a rolling tour, officers visit a selection of local faith-based organizations on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday to deliver greetings. In this way, law enforcement is able to engage with residents where they are most comfortable.

QUICK ACTIVITIES

The following are activities that provide an opportunity for faith-based organizations and law enforcement that do not have the planning time to host one of the core activities proposed in this toolkit. Many of these activities can also be combined into a single event. Please feel free to reach out to our team at info@faithandblue.org if you are unsure about whether you may have the time and bandwidth to organize one of the core activities — we will help in discussing what is involved. And regardless of whether you do a quick activity, a core activity, or an idea you create on your own, your participation in National Faith & Blue Weekend in a way that makes sense for your community and your capacity is most important.

Quick Activity A: Sending Greetings (and/or Prayer Circuit)

In this activity, law enforcement officers and/or command staff attend a worship ceremony in person or virtually to provide words of greeting. If virtually, a recording can be made and shared with one or multiple faith-based organizations. If in person, delegates from the law enforcement agency can be sent. The remarks do not need to be long — just offering thoughts by law enforcement about how officers are working to engage with the community, particularly during the contemporary discourse on policing and social justice. If you are with a faith-based organization, your clergy can record messages with their thoughts on supporting and engaging with law enforcement, which can then be shared with law enforcement.

For the prayer circuit, clergy members or law enforcement officers can identify a few sites to visit to receive or give prayers. Alternatively, a police chaplain and members of the clergy can pray at key locations in the city, for example at a courthouse, park, or hospital.

Quick Activity B: Ask an Officer

In this activity, a faith-based organization and law enforcement agency set up an online meeting — via Zoom or Google Meet. During the meeting, members of the faith-based organization ask questions of the officers, and officers respond. A recording of the session could then be shared with all members of the faith-based organization. Alternatively, the event can be held in person, taped, and distributed to members of the faith-based organization.

Quick Activity C: Message Board

A faith-based organization can set up a large canvas in their building, and members, particularly children, can write messages or draw illustrations describing what policing means to them and how law enforcement can keep people safe while ensuring equality before the law. Once the canvas is complete, it could be delivered to law enforcement and photographs could be taken of representatives of law enforcement and the faith-based organization. As a virtual option, a volunteer could set up an email or Facebook page to receive messages and photographs of kids' drawings by a certain date. The messages and drawings can be printed out and bound into a book that could be presented to a law enforcement agency. Another possibility is to get water soluble markers and have children write messages of support and justice on police vehicles.

Quick Activity D: Mural

A faith-based organization can set up a canvas in their building, and a volunteer can outline a large drawing — or positive message — on a theme related to policing and justice. Members of the faith-based organization can paint within the drawing to complete the mural, which could then be delivered to a law enforcement agency. As a virtual option, drawings could be mailed either on paper or pieces of cloth. A volunteer could compile the artwork, either stitching together the cloth illustrations or binding the book together.

QUICK ACTIVITIES

Quick Activity E: Item Drive

This activity can be held at either a faith-based organization or a law enforcement agency and involves collecting a type or types of items for the needy. These can include coats, socks, canned food, books, or sanitary items. A local shelter, library, or food bank can be partnered with to receive the items once collected. Promotion of the event, and early collection days, can be managed in the run-up to National Faith & Blue Weekend.

Quick Activity F: Shredding Service

A law enforcement agency or faith-based organization can serve as the setting for a shredding service that is made open to the public. Local shredding companies can be found on Google, and some can bring a mobile shredder to a convenient destination. They will charge a minimal fee, which can often be covered by a local business as a donation. During the activity, law enforcement and representatives from the faith-based organization can be on hand to have casual conversations with members of the public, to pass out safety materials, to do bike registration, and other activities. The event can be accompanied with a hot dog BBQ or even a technology recycling effort (local environmental organizations or municipalities can help find a service). Remember to publicize the event widely.

Quick Activity G: Community Garden Day

Many communities have community gardens that require regular maintenance, and, in this activity, law enforcement and faith-based organizations volunteers support local gardeners. You can Google local community gardens and reach out to the coordinator (also check social media); then at a designated time — usually on a weekend day — your volunteers can show up to provide support in weeding, planting, and other gardening. The good thing about this activity is that the site and activity is already in place; you just need to bring the people. This activity also allows for informal conversations and meet and greets.

Quick Activity H: Visit Our Seniors

For this activity, members of a law enforcement agency and a faith-based organization can send a small group to a local senior community or set of senior communities to deliver greetings, to discuss how they are working together to enhance public safety, and even to discuss and take questions on how they see contemporary discourse around policing. This event can be combined with offering a prayer for public safety.

Quick Activity I: Cookie Sale

This activity can occur as a fundraiser for a local nonprofit. Members of the faith-based organization, law enforcement officers and their families, and other community organizations can bake cookies (which should be wrapped individually, if possible) and sell them in a space that is very accessible to the public. Law enforcement can be on hand to meet and greet, pass out safety flyers, and connect with the public and members of the faith-based organization.

Quick Activity J: Child Car Seat Checking

For this activity, which can be held at a faith-based organization, fire department, police office parking lot, or other setting, members of the public are encouraged to bring their cars with car seats for installation and checking to make sure the seats are safely installed. A fire department may provide best practices in car seat checking/installation. You can reach out to local preschools and day cares to pass out a flyer about the event, which can also be paired with a hot-dog BBQ or one of the other quick activities. Law enforcement can be on hand to meet and greet the public.

The visual nature of National Faith & Blue Weekend is one of its most powerful attributes, yielding a waterfall of powerful photos from across the country that show residents and officers building connections and understanding in every type of community.

To elevate this wonderful component of Faith & Blue, each year a photo contest is held, with the three winning photos being featured prominently in an impact report sent to thousands of agencies and in Faith & Blue social media. Moreover, the winners receive a custom plaque and multiple challenge coins!

This year we are adding to the photo contest by creating a video contest. To participate is easy — simply tag your photos and images on social media (Twitter, Facebook, or Instagram) or submit them online at <https://faithandblue.org/photo-upload>.

As for what makes a winning photo or video? The award committee looks for three qualities: creativity, spirit, and connection. Here are the winning photos from 2022:

ACTIVITY 1: CRUCIAL CONVERSATIONS (ONE-HOUR EVENT)

Short Overview

This activity provides the opportunity for the police and community to engage tough, but important, topics on policing. The conversation occurs as a roundtable rather than a formal panel (although a panel can be utilized); at the minimum, it should include local law enforcement officers, ideally including a police chief or sheriff, community advocates, and faith leaders. Topics engaged may include law officer-involved incidents, use of force, questions of bias, and officer safety. The goal of this activity is to raise important issues in policing so that they can be discussed out in the open and in such a way as to create greater understanding between the community and law enforcement. We recommend you choose a specific topic that has impacted or created concerns in your community to explore the issue and find common ground or the first steps to common ground. This activity is in contrast to the Community Dialogue event (Activity 2), which is a panel-based overview of how the community, law enforcement, faith-based organizations, and other organizations can work together to create safe and inclusive neighborhoods.

Materials Needed

Water and chairs that can be gathered in a circle. If possible, a camera that can be set up to record and livestream the event.

Location Needed

The setting can be outdoors or indoors. Church grounds or a fellowship hall will serve well.

Role for Faith-Based Organization

To designate a member of congregational leadership to offer opening remarks and then participate in the discussion, to encourage parishioners to participate, and to provide a meeting space.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

To designate a member of department leadership to offer opening remarks and then participate in the discussion, to encourage members of the force to participate, and to be available to answer questions and mingle at the end of the event.

How to Create Connections

Encourage attendees to remain for 30 minutes after the conclusion of the discussion for informal follow-up conversations with roundtable participants.

ACTIVITY 1: CRUCIAL CONVERSATIONS (ONE-HOUR EVENT)

Planning Timeline — minimum seven days from event date

- ☐ Step 1: Reach out to the faith-based organization or law enforcement agency. A local faith-based organization with a reputation for community engagement and a significant-sized congregation would be the ideal partner to work with law enforcement to turn out a good-sized group.
- ☐ Step 2: Designate a topic focus and identify invitees from (a) the congregation, (b) the law enforcement agency, (c) one to two additional participants, ideally from community organizations that engage issues of policing or racial justice, and (d) a facilitator who is comfortable with sensitive topics. Confirm two people to provide introductory remarks, ideally a faith and law enforcement leader.
- ☐ Step 3: Identify and confirm the venue.
- ☐ Step 4: Form a small promotion committee that will take steps including: (1) working with the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency to send an email and post on social media to members about the event, (2) having the religious leader announce it at a religious service, (3) posting promotional materials on bulletin boards, (4) identifying event photographers, etc.
- ☐ Step 5: Have the facilitator create initial questions that can open up the topic for discussion.
- ☐ Step 6: Hold event (see Day of Steps below).
- ☐ Step 7: Compile contact information from attendees and send thank you notes to attendees, vendors, and anyone else involved.

Day of Steps

- ☐ Step 1: Participants should arrive 15 minutes before the discussion starts.
- ☐ Step 2: At the start of the event, a welcome should be given by the host of the physical space and then introductory remarks should be given by someone from law enforcement and the faith-based organization (3 minutes).
- ☐ Step 3: The facilitator will then allow each of the participants to give a 30-second introduction (12 minutes). (If doing a panel, allow for longer introductions.)
- ☐ Step 4: The facilitator will describe the topic for discussion and establish ground rules for the discussion.
- ☐ Step 5: The first question/topic for discussion will be provided, and a conversation will commence.
- ☐ Step 6: Closing remarks from the facilitator to summarize the dialogue and to thank everyone for coming (5 minutes).
- ☐ Step 7: Break down.
- ☐ Step 8: Send photos with descriptions/captions to your partners, including community organizations, the faith-based organization, law enforcement agency liaison, info@faithandblue.org, and any local sponsors.

Virtual Programming

This activity can be organized as a Zoom discussion.

- ☐ Step 1: Zoom or another videoconferencing software should be selected. Make sure all participants have access to, and are familiar with, the software you choose. You may want to schedule a trial run-through if you are doing a panel. Have the speakers sign in 15 minutes before the start of the discussion.
- ☐ Step 2: Starting two weeks in advanced, the event should be promoted heavily through the existing channels of the organizations that will be sending participants. A media advisory should also be used to reach the public that lists an email for RSVPs.
- ☐ Step 3: The format should follow the same order as the in-person activity. Those not speaking should be muted.
- ☐ Step 4: The event should be recorded and made available on the pages of the participating community organizations.

ACTIVITY 2: COMMUNITY DIALOGUE (TWO-HOUR EVENT)

Short Overview

A conversation on public safety and how community members, faith leaders, and law enforcement can work together to ensure safe neighborhoods while protecting the rights of those who are policed. The conversation will be a small panel, with representatives from the law enforcement agency, the hosting faith-based organization, a community member with some expertise in criminal justice (such as a local professor or prominent attorney), and a representative of a community organization.

Materials Needed

Table cards for the panel, microphones and audio equipment, and name tags for attendees, along with chairs.
Water for the panel.

Location Needed

The setting can be outdoors or indoors. Church grounds or a fellowship hall will serve well.

Role for Faith-Based Organization

To designate a member of congregational leadership to speak, to encourage parishioners to attend, and to provide a meeting space.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

To designate a member of department leadership to speak and to encourage members of the force to attend as audience members.

How to Create Connections

Through the use of a breakout session that divides the audience into smaller groups to discuss particular challenges and opportunities in public safety.

Planning Timeline — minimum seven days from event date

- ☐ Step 1: Reach out to the faith-based organization or law enforcement agency. A local faith-based organization with a reputation for community engagement and a significant-sized congregation would be the ideal partner to work with law enforcement to turn out a good-sized crowd.
- ☐ Step 2: Designate a safety-related topic focus and identify speakers from both the congregation and the law enforcement agency, one to two additional speakers, and a moderator. Identify facilitators for breakout sessions if you feel the crowd will be large and smaller groups better for discussion.
- ☐ Step 3: Identify and confirm the venue.
- ☐ Step 4: Form a small promotion committee that will take steps including: (1) working with the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency to send an email and post on social media to members about the event, (2) having the religious leader announce it at a religious service, (3) posting promotional materials on bulletin boards, (4) identifying event photographers, etc.

ACTIVITY 2: COMMUNITY DIALOGUE (TWO-HOUR EVENT)

- ☐ Step 5: Confirm speakers, gather bios, and create event agenda with topic and speaker bios.
- ☐ Step 6: Within 7 days, have a quick run-through — whether the event is on-site or via Zoom — with representatives of the faith-based organization, law enforcement agency, speakers, moderator, sponsors, photographer, and anyone else who needs to understand the setup and event order for planning purposes to allow for changes and updates.
- ☐ Step 7: Hold event (see Day of Steps below).
- ☐ Step 8: Compile contact information from attendees and send thank you notes to attendees, speakers, vendors, and anyone else involved.

Day of Steps

- ☐ Step 1: Panelists should arrive 30 minutes before the forum starts and, along with the moderator, have an initial discussion; ensure photographers are in place to take photos.
- ☐ Step 2: At the start of the event, a welcome should be given by the host of the physical space (3 minutes).
- ☐ Step 3: The moderator will then allow each of the panelists to give a three-minute introduction (12 minutes).
- ☐ Step 4: Preselected questions to each of the panelists, directed by the moderator (20 minutes).
- ☐ Step 5: Spontaneous questions from the audience will be handed to volunteers and given to the moderator, who will select, or may choose to summarize if a common theme is noted, and ask three questions (10 minutes).
- ☐ Step 6: (Optional) Breakout groups (encourage people to join groups with those they do not know) discuss ways to collaborate to create inclusive and effective public safety (15 minutes).
- ☐ Step 7: Report outs from each of the groups (1 minute per group).
- ☐ Step 8: Closing remarks from the panel (10 minutes).
- ☐ Step 9: Closing remarks from the moderator to summarize the dialogue and to thank everyone for coming (3 minutes).
- ☐ Step 10: Break down.
- ☐ Step 11: Send photos with descriptions/captions to your partners, including community organizations, the faith-based organization, law enforcement agency liaison, info@faithandblue.org, and any local sponsors.

Virtual Programming

Hold an online community forum where community members can ask questions and answers can be shared with a broad audience.

- ☐ Step 1: Secure Zoom or other online videoconferencing tool. Make sure all speakers have access to, and are familiar with, the software you choose. You may want to sign in with each for a brief run-through. Have the speakers sign in 15 minutes before the start of the panel.
- ☐ Step 2: Gather questions in advance.
- ☐ Step 3: Bring together panelists at an assigned time.
- ☐ Step 4: Have a moderator lead the discussion with the questions submitted in advance.
- ☐ Step 5: Allow audience members to submit questions to the moderator in real time. Zoom also allows for breakout rooms if you would like to divide the group into small discussions. For information on how to do breakouts, go to <https://support.zoom.us/hc/en-us/articles/206476313>.
- ☐ Step 6: Make the video available in real time or as a recording.

ACTIVITY 3: BOOK DISCUSSION (TWO-HOUR EVENT)

Short Overview

This activity is an informal way to begin discussions between members of the faith-based organization, the broader community, and law enforcement. It allows dialogue to be centered around a chosen book and provides a more intimate atmosphere for a smaller group activity.

Materials Needed

Book, table, chairs, and snacks (if desired).

Location Needed

The activity can take place in a room located within the faith-based organization or the local library.

Role for Faith-Based Organization

To reach out to parishioners to attend and to manage the logistics of hosting the event.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

Have members of the local department participate in an activity.

How to Create Connections

Informal conversations between officers and residents during the discussion will allow for personal connection during discussions surrounding the chosen book. The book can be thoughtfully picked to decide the intended focus topic.

ACTIVITY 3: BOOK DISCUSSION (TWO-HOUR EVENT)

Planning Timeline — minimum seven days from event date

- ☐ Step 1: Reach out to the faith-based organization or law enforcement agency.
- ☐ Step 2: Identify and secure location (and backup location). Libraries are good, neutral locations and often have librarians who can participate and give some background to the book.
- ☐ Step 3: Choose a book, ideally announced 10 days from the event date.
- ☐ Step 4: Form a small promotion committee that will take steps including: (1) working with the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency to send an email and post on social media to members about the event, (2) having the religious leader announce it at a religious service, (3) posting promotional materials on bulletin boards, (4) identifying event photographers, etc.
- ☐ Step 5: Create a list of participants with a healthy mix of law enforcement officers and members of the congregation. Make sure each has a copy of or access to the book.
- ☐ Step 6: Designate an individual to lead a topic discussion and create questions that will enhance participation among group members.
- ☐ Step 7: Hold event (see Day of Steps below).
- ☐ Step 8: Compile contact information from attendees and send thank you notes to attendees, speakers, vendors, and anyone else involved.

Day of Steps

- ☐ Step 1: Activity leader(s) should arrive for set up at least 15–30 minutes in advance; food and drink can be set up at this time if it is being offered.
- ☐ Step 2: After most attendees arrive, have spokespersons from the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency provide welcoming remarks.
- ☐ Step 3: Activity leader(s) should explain how the book discussion will take place with the group.
- ☐ Step 4: Discussion.
- ☐ Step 5: Have a closing speaker to summarize the event's goals and to thank everyone for coming. Because this is usually a smaller group, it may be appropriate to take a group photo at the end versus numerous photos throughout the discussion.
- ☐ Step 6: Break down.
- ☐ Step 7: Send photos with descriptions/captions to your partners, including community organizations, the faith-based organization, law enforcement agency liaison, info@faithandblue.org, and any local sponsors.

Virtual Programming

You can organize a virtual book discussion.

- ☐ Step 1: Zoom or a similar video option is put in place.
- ☐ Step 2: Participants are identified, along with a book or article that speaks to ways that people come together.
- ☐ Step 3: Spokesperson from the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency provides welcoming remarks.
- ☐ Step 4: A facilitator is selected to facilitate the discussion and then to offer a summary.
- ☐ Step 5: A screenshot is taken of all participants in the discussion.
- ☐ Step 6: A recording of the discussion is shared on the social media pages of the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency.

ACTIVITY 4: VIGIL FOR UNDERSTANDING

Short Overview

This activity brings together a diverse cross section of community members, including from law enforcement agencies and the faith community, to share words and prayers calling for mutual understanding. The activity should not be seen as advancing a particular perspective as much as creating space for participants to offer their perspective on how to come together, give voice to challenges, and heal divisions.

Materials Needed

- ☐ Step 3: Confirm the venue and form a promotional team that will distribute information about the activity through social media, in printed materials, to community organizations, and in appeals to membership.
- ☐ Step 4: Create the agenda for the vigil (optional: a topic can be given to each of the speakers, such as “reducing bias,” “safety in fulfilling law enforcement duties,” “how to understand another’s perspective,” “creating healing,” etc.).
- ☐ Step 5: Ask the speakers to promote the vigil to their respective networks.
- ☐ Step 6: Hold the vigil.

Virtual option: The vigil can be held via Zoom or other videoconferencing software. It can also be integrated into a religious service that is already scheduled.

Members of the faith-based organization, the broader community, and law enforcement can create signs that speak to matters of peace and justice, either on their own or this could be done together the week prior to the event day. The activity will include time for attendees to mingle before and after the walk. Delivery of remarks by representatives of the faith-based organization, law enforcement agency, and community leaders can be done before and after the walk.

To reach out to parishioners to attend and to coordinate volunteers to manage the logistics of hosting.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

To send as many members of the local department to the activity, to designate one or two members of leadership to deliver remarks, and to assist in the solicitation of donations. Law enforcement can come out of uniform but wear polos or T-shirts or badges so that community members know who they are.

How to Create Connections

This activity will allow members of the faith-based organization, community, and law enforcement to come together and support each other in peaceful demonstrations that will reach an even broader audience within the community by creating signs and walking through local communities.

ACTIVITY 13: ATHLETIC EVENT (TWO-HOUR EVENT)

Short Overview

An activity that brings community members and law enforcement officers together through an informal athletic event, such as a softball or basketball game.

Materials Needed

Water, light snacks, colored “pennies” (can be picked up at a local sporting goods store), sports equipment.

Location Needed

Either a baseball/softball diamond or a basketball court. Volleyball or kickball is also an option. Fields and courts can usually be reserved through a local recreation department.

Role for Faith-Based Organization

To invite members of the congregation to participate; to reach out to the youth group, members men’s and women’s groups, etc; and to designate a member of leadership to deliver the welcoming and closing remarks.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

To send members to participate and to designate a member of leadership to deliver welcoming and closing remarks.

How to Create Connections

Rather than have teams be law enforcement vs. community members, mix them up to create blended teams. During the game, have the leadership and community leader take turns blowing a whistle to stop the game and ask a question about the community and about the law enforcement agency. Whichever team answers correctly first earns their team a point. Then restart the game. After the game, encourage the teams to go to a local restaurant to celebrate or have a tables set up nearby with snacks and water/soft drinks to mingle and talk.

Planning Timeline — minimum seven days from event date

- ☐ Step 1: Reach out to the faith-based organization or law enforcement agency.
- ☐ Step 2: Identify a date and secure location (and backup date in case of bad weather). Decide if you want to provide refreshments, such as water, soft drinks, or snacks, to the team members as well as spectators.
- ☐ Step 3: Reach out to members of the law enforcement department and the faith-based organization to secure player sign-ups; ensure at least 20 people for a softball game and 10 for a basketball game. Remember to find coaches and umpires (or referees) to support the game.
- ☐ Step 4: Buy (or ask for donation of) a trophy from a local sports shop to provide to the winner. Alternatively, you can create certificates for each of the winners with a place to add their name and for representatives of the law enforcement agency and faith-based organization to pre-sign on the bottom.

- ☐ Step 5: Form a small promotion committee that will take steps including: (1) working with the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency to send an email and post on social media to members about the event, (2) having the religious leader announce it at a religious service, (3) posting promotional materials on bulletin boards, (4) identifying event photographers, etc.
- ☐ Step 6: Confirm players from the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency. You may include fun/unusual/humorous facts about the players to set the mood. You can either assign teams in advance or bring markers and paper to write names down and draw teams at the event.
- ☐ Step 7: Recruit volunteers to manage site setup and break down, including how you will handle water/snack distribution.
- ☐ Step 8: Hold event (see Day of Steps below).
- ☐ Step 9: Compile contact information from attendees and send thank you notes to attendees, speakers, vendors, and anyone else involved.

Day of Steps

- ☐ Step 1: Setup committee, food/drink, players, coaches, and umpires (or referees) should arrive 30 minutes before the game warm-up starts.

- ☐ Step 2: Make teams, mixing players between law enforcement agency and members of the faith-based organization.
- ☐ Step 3: Schedule the game and, if possible, utilize Twitch or other gaming service to broadcast the competition on the Facebook pages of the faith-based organization.
- ☐ Step 4: If you have a lot of participants, you can organize a bracket and then have a tournament.
- ☐ Step 5: If the contest is not being played live, select a game and the criteria for how it will be played and the day on which it will be played. Then have players take a screenshot of their score and post it to a Facebook event page.
- ☐ Step 6: Order a trophy and send it to the winner.

ACTIVITY 14: PARADE (ONE-HOUR EVENT)

Short Overview

This activity is designed to be a short-and-sweet way to bring the community and law enforcement together. A parade of people, bikes, and cars will be lined up, intermingling patrol cars and community cars. Every car will have a pro-community message attached to each side. Children will be encouraged to make signs and decorate cars. Floats could also be designed. The parade will follow a designated route, and houses and businesses on the route will be encouraged to make and display their own signs. You can add a rally prior to the drive and/or a small rally at the conclusion of the drive to support the participants and to thank them.

Materials Needed

Poster paper, markers, balloons, tape. Blue painter's tape to attach signage. A megaphone will be needed if a congregational leader plans to speak during the parade. Be sure to research any permitting requirements needed for parades in your community.

Location Needed

The drive will be outdoors along a prescribed route. We recommend approximately a mile or less as you will be driving slowly and have multiple vehicles. We also recommend choosing a popular retail or residential area or major streets around a key neighborhood meeting point like a faith-based organization or a community center. Before the drive, poster and sign making can be done indoors, such as in a fellowship hall.

Role for Faith-Based Organization

To designate a member of congregational leadership to speak at the kickoff/conclusion of the drive and to encourage parishioners to attend.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

To designate a member of department leadership to speak at the kickoff and/or conclusion of the drive and to encourage members of the force to drive their vehicles at the activity.

How to Create Connections

Through informal conversations at the sign-making and car-decorating session, as well as at the pre- and post-parade rally, if you choose to have one.

ACTIVITY 14: PARADE (ONE-HOUR EVENT)

Planning Timeline — minimum seven days from event date

- ☐ Step 1: Reach out to the faith-based organization or law enforcement agency. Multiple faith-based organizations can also participate, as can multiple law enforcement agencies.
- ☐ Step 2: Set the time and date for the activity; the line-up time should be 30 minutes before the parade begins.

- ☐ Step 4: Host a call with leaders for the participating organizations to discuss the logistics.
- ☐ Step 5: Form a small promotion committee that will take steps including: (1) working with the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency to send an email and post on social media to members about the event, (2) having the religious leader announce it at a religious service, (3) posting promotional materials on bulletin boards, (4) identifying event photographers, etc.

- ☐ Step 4: Commence driving the route. Law enforcement may be able to provide an escort so that cars can proceed safely in a line and at a slow pace.
- ☐ Step 5: Ensure photographers are in place along the route to take photos.
- ☐ Step 6: At the end of the route, which should be where the lineup occurred, have closing remarks delivered.
- ☐ Step 7: Break down.
- ☐ Step 8: Send photos with descriptions/captions to your partners, including community organizations, the faith-based organization, law enforcement agency liaison, info@faithandblue.org, and any local sponsors.

ACTIVITY 15: LAW ENFORCEMENT OPEN HOUSE (TWO-HOUR EVENT)

Short Overview

An informal activity that is kid-oriented. Officers will bring their (safe) equipment and cruisers to the parking lot of a faith-based organization where children will have the chance to interact with the equipment, such as turning on and off the lights of a cruiser. Adults can also have a meaningful conversation with law officers to better understand how and why equipment is utilized.

Materials Needed

Light food, coffee, and drinks. Often can be secured through donations by a local supermarket or restaurant.

Location Needed

A parking lot, preferably the faith-based organization so that congregation members can feel comfortable.

Role for Faith-Based Organization

To host the event.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

To send officers and equipment to the activity.

How to Create Connections

Informal connections will be created between officers and congregants. The heart of this activity is the informal conversation between officers and residents; however, many people are unsure how to start the conversation. Therefore, we suggest you encourage dialogue by creating a game with prizes, such as police logoed pens or pads of paper for every child who can tell the officers three facts they learned from their visit that day. You can also create scorecards with checkboxes or bingo cards with squares that require kids to go from station to station to learn a fact about that piece of law enforcement equipment or the community. To add an additional level of depth, adults can speak with law enforcement officers about the equipment and how they decide when to use them and what goes into their decision making.

Planning Timeline — minimum seven days before event date

- ☐ Step 1: Reach out to the faith-based organization or law enforcement agency.
- ☐ Step 2: Identify and secure location (and backup location and/or date in case of bad weather). Notify nearby neighbors that there will be sirens being pressed during the time of the event and invite them to attend.
- ☐ Step 3: Form a small promotion committee that will take steps including: (1) working with the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency to send an email and post on social media to members about the event, (2) having the religious leader announce it at a religious service, (3) posting promotional materials on bulletin boards, (4) identifying event photographers, etc.

- ☐ Step 4: Item pick-up can be coordinated on a set date, hosted by the law enforcement agency or faith-based organization.

ACTIVITY 20: COMMUNITY SERVICE PROJECT (FOUR-HOUR EVENT)

Short Overview

Collaborating with a local community service organization, the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency provide volunteer staffing to a local initiative. Examples can include helping with a Habitat for Humanity build, organizing food at a food bank, or participating in a river cleanup.

Materials Needed

The materials will usually be provided by the volunteer organization. If possible, volunteers can wear T-shirts, which can be acquired through the National Faith & Blue Weekend website.

Location Needed

The location will be provided by the volunteer organization.

Role for Faith-Based Organization

To recruit members of the congregation to participate in the activity and to have a faith leader offer welcoming and closing prayers for the activity.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

To recruit members of the law enforcement agency to participate in the activity and to have a leader offer welcoming and closing remarks for the activity.

How to Create Connections

Participants should be mixed to ensure that law enforcement officers and members of the faith-based organization are working side by side. The heart of this activity is the informal conversation between officers and residents. However, many people are unsure of how to start the conversation. Therefore, we suggest you encourage dialogue by asking that each community member and officer speak to three people they don't know, set up a receiving line, or create a game with prizes, such as a $25 local restaurant gift card for those who discover three fun facts they learned about another participant.

ACTIVITY 20: COMMUNITY SERVICE PROJECT (FOUR-HOUR EVENT)

Planning Timeline — minimum seven days from event date, though some nonprofits need 30+ days' notice

- ☐ Step 1: Identify a nonprofit/volunteer organization that has opportunities for groups of 20 or more participants.
- ☐ Step 2: Reach out to a local faith-based organization or law enforcement agency to solicit their participation.
- ☐ Step 3: Identify and secure activity and volunteer details.
- ☐ Step 4: Form a small promotion committee that will take steps including: (1) working with the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency to send an email and post on social media to members about the event, (2) having the religious leader announce it at a religious service, (3) posting promotional materials on bulletin boards, (4) identifying event photographers, etc.
- ☐ Step 5: Create an agenda and/or timeline of events for participants that includes information on the nonprofit/volunteer organization with which you will be working.
- ☐ Step 6: Hold event (see Day of Steps below).
- ☐ Step 7: Compile contact information from attendees and send thank you notes to attendees, nonprofit organization, and anyone else involved.

Day of Steps

- ☐ Step 1: Set up a check-in table or have two to four volunteers with clipboards checking in attendees, especially if they will have differing assignments; hand out T-shirts (if you are using).
- ☐ Step 2: Ensure photographers are in place to take photos.
- ☐ Step 3: Have opening remarks delivered by a faith leader and leader of the law enforcement agency.
- ☐ Step 4: Participate in activity, taking photographs.
- ☐ Step 5: Have closing remarks delivered by a faith leader and representative of the law enforcement agency with a summary of the event's success and a thank you to the nonprofit host organization and all attendees. Pose for group photo.
- ☐ Step 6: Break down (if necessary).
- ☐ Step 7: Send photos with descriptions/captions to your partners, including community organizations, the faith-based organization, law enforcement agency liaison, info@faithandblue.org, and any local sponsors.

Virtual Programming

A food drive can be established where members of the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency collect and then drop off food at a local food bank. The food can be dropped off at a specific time, and the volunteers can be photographed together, wearing masks, or a compilation of photos of each drop can be created.

- ☐ Step 1: Identify and reach out to a local food bank.
- ☐ Step 2: Establish a time by which the food will be collected and a location to gather the food.
- ☐ Step 3: Have participants drop off food at the local law enforcement agency or faith-based organization.
- ☐ Step 4: On an arranged day, have participants together collect the food, organize a car caravan, and drop off the food at the food bank. Remember to take a socially distanced photograph.

SPECIAL ACTIVITY: HOST A BLOOD DRIVE

Short Overview

We are excited to share that MovementForward, Inc. has partnered with the American Red Cross to facilitate a community service project. This partnership will afford the opportunity for faith-based organizations and law enforcement agencies to work together to host a blood drive. There is also a special focus for these events to inform the public about sickle cell disease.

What Red Cross Will Provide

- Planning Assistance — The Red Cross representative will work with you to plan and organize the blood drive.
- Recruitment Tools — The Red Cross representative will help you determine how many donors you need and how to recruit them, including an online scheduling tool for your donors.
- Equipment & Supplies — The Red Cross will bring everything it needs to your location, set it up and take it down at the end, including snacks and drinks.
- Trained Staff — The Red Cross staff will confidentially screen donors and collect donations, safely and professionally.

Location Needed

You will need a suitable inside space to host the blood drive — at least 1,200 square feet of open, climate-controlled space with at least four electrical outlets, bathroom access nearby, and tables and chairs. A faith-based organization fellowship hall will serve well.

Role for Faith-Based Organization

To provide space to host the blood drive; to recruit volunteers to assist with registration, canteen and other stations; and to share news about the blood drive to the congregation and sign up blood donors prior to the blood drive. Early recruitment and sign-ups will help to ensure you successfully meet your blood drive goal and meet the blood needs of your community. The Faith-Based Organization can also help advertise the drive to the public. Because diversity is important in the blood supply and black donors are underrepresented, there is a particular value in reaching out to the Black community to become donors to help close the sickle cell gap.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

To recruit volunteers to provide staffing during the drive, to share news about the blood drive to fellow officers, and to recruit donors. A PIO or other public-facing staff position can also work on promoting the drive to the public.

How to Create Connections

A representative from the Faith-Based Organization and the Law Enforcement agency should be on hand to recruit donors as they come in. Having shift sign-ups might help. While donors are awaiting their turn, they can be provided with information on Faith & Blue and how the community can work together to create safe and just communities.

Planning Timeline

- ☐ Step 1: Reach out to the faith-based organization or law enforcement agency and choose an event coordinator.
- ☐ Step 2: Email the special account blooddrive@faithandblue.org to let us know that you are interested in hosting a blood drive, and the contact information for your event coordinator. The deadline for submitting blood drive request is August 1st. We ask that sponsor have flexibility with scheduling, because regional calendar availability varies.

- Step 3: A member of our staff will reach out to the coordinator and connect them with a local Red Cross representative who will provide detailed information and support them in preparing and executing your blood drive.

About Sickle Cell Disease

- Who is impacted by sickle cell disease?

Approximately 100,000 people in the U.S. are living with sickle cell disease. Most people with sickle cell disease are African American or of African descent. In fact, the disease affects 1 out of every 365 African American babies born in this country.

- What is sickle cell disease?

Sickle cell disease causes red blood cells to be hard and crescent-shaped (like a sickle) instead of soft and round. As a result, it is difficult for blood to flow smoothly and carry enough oxygen to the rest of the body, which may result in severe pain, organ and tissue damage, or even strokes.

- How is sickle cell disease treated?

Blood transfusions help provide a lifesaving treatment during a sickle cell pain crisis by replacing sickled red blood cells with healthy red blood cells. This helps deliver oxygen to tissues and organs and unblock blood vessels. Donated blood is the only source of this treatment.

- How can I help?

Blood donors have the unique ability to help patients with sickle cell disease. A person with sickle cell disease may need a precise pairing with a blood donor, especially if frequent transfusions are necessary. If a patient receives a transfusion of a blood type that is not a close match, they may form antibodies against the mismatched antigens. To help avoid transfusion-related complications, a patient is more likely to find the most compatible blood match from a donor of the same race or similar ethnicity.

	Population	% of Population Donating	% of Red Cross Donations
African American	13%	0.45%	3.7%
Asian	6%	0.7%	2.6%
Caucasian	76%	1.1%	86%
2+ Races	2.7%	0.8%	1.3%
Native American	1.3%	0.4%	0.4%

Did you know?

- To meet the needs of patients, the Red Cross needs to collect nearly 12,500 blood donations are needed every day.
- Eighty-four percent of donations are collected at community-based blood drives, hosted by generous sponsors — close to where people live and work.

ACTIVITY 21: CITIZENS' ACADEMY

Short Overview

A citizens' academy is a forum designed to offer a structure for the flow of information from local law enforcement and policy makers to community residents that helps disburse and explain rules, regulations, laws, and guidelines. It is a voluntary collaboration set up by interested residents, local law enforcement, and elected officials who hold hired, appointed, or elected positions in capacities that impact community relations within the local area.

Resources Needed

It is recommended that a minimum of 10 people from the community who have expressed interest are identified before creating a citizens' academy class or session. Developing an agenda and securing the participation of local law enforcement participation are the first steps toward success.

Location Needed

The citizens' academy sessions should be held at a location accessible to the public. We also recommend choosing a popular retail or residential area or major streets around a key neighborhood meeting point like a faith-based organization or a community center. Prior to the meetings, poster and directional signage can be posted indoors, such as in a fellowship hall.

Role for Faith-Based Organization

To designate a member of congregational leadership to speak or greet at meetings and to be a host site for the sessions.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

To designate a member of department leadership to facilitate the dissemination of policing information, to serve as advisor to sessions on law enforcement guidelines, and to encourage audience or attendees to get engaged and provide feedback to local law enforcement.

How to Create Connections

Content covered in a citizens' academy is as unique as the areas it covers, so the approach to information dissemination may also vary. Each planning law enforcement representative or zone liaison should make a point of gaining a good working knowledge of the community in its zone or area. With the flow of information coming from local law enforcement to the local community, careful listening and discussion in advance will help law enforcement devise an effective communication approach. A meeting between local law enforcement and the citizens' academy coordinator is recommended to keep the approach under review.

The citizens' academy coordinator role is to coordinate with the local community and local law enforcement. Both the community in general and the citizens' academy coordinator will need to have ready access to information on law enforcement guidelines and development plans. It is therefore essential that local law enforcement make this information available to the citizens' academy coordinator.

Connections can be created through respectful interaction, informal and formal exchange of ideas and knowledge. Acknowledgment of the parties' perspectives is also an important way to create connections. Each community council should appoint one person as their point of contact for the local law enforcement on all planning matters, provide contact information, and inform the local law enforcement of community concerns and needs accordingly. A regular contact person in the local law enforcement agency should also be clearly identified for each citizens' academy. This will usually be a community liaison zone officer for the area concerned.

Planning Timeline — minimum seven days from event date

- ☐ Step 1: Identify local law enforcement point of contact (e.g., community liaison).
- ☐ Step 2: Work with law enforcement to make an introduction to the appropriate officer.
- ☐ Step 3: Host a call with that designated officer to discuss the session needs and logistics.
- ☐ Step 4: Develop an agenda based upon the guidelines as shared by local law enforcement.
- ☐ Step 5: Work with the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency to send an email and post on social media to inform the local community about the event; have the religious leader announce the academy at a religious service.
- ☐ Step 6: Develop marketing materials such as posters, postcards, e-cards to help spread the word; place and distribute materials about two weeks before the event. Prepare a survey for distribution the day of the event.
- ☐ Step 7: Identify an opening and closing speaker from law enforcement and from a faith-based organization.
- ☐ Step 8: Identify the space and time for sign-up. We recommend this be done in advance.
- ☐ Step 9: Develop and share an agenda or a run of show that indicates the start time, speakers, topics, speaking time allotted, Q&A time, and closing, and share this with all speakers.
- ☐ Step 10: Determine if AV accommodations are needed. If so, arrange for them with the facility or faith-based organization in advance.
- ☐ Step 11: Hold event (see Day of Steps below).
- ☐ Step 12: Compile survey results.

Day of Steps

- ☐ Step 1: Arrive at the faith-based organization or community center an hour in advance.
- ☐ Step 2: Set up sign-in station.
- ☐ Step 3: If using electronic sign-in, have a paper sign-in sheet as backup in case of an internet outage.
- ☐ Step 4: Capture attendees' name, phone, and email on the sign-in sheet.
- ☐ Step 5: Identify where the speakers will sit and speak. Place water at their seats.
- ☐ Step 6: Brief speakers on the agenda and other housekeeping details upon their arrival.
- ☐ Step 7: Host the citizens' academy according to the agenda or run of show.
- ☐ Step 8: Manage Q&A segment with respect to all speakers — ask that people are respectful of the time given by speakers by being civil, brief, and kind. Also, ask that they are considerate of others in attendance who may also have questions.
- ☐ Step 9: Distribute survey to attendees to solicit feedback.
- ☐ Step 10: Within three days, send emails or thank you messages to speakers and faith-based organization for their participation.
- ☐ Step 11: Send photos with descriptions/captions to your partners, including community organizations, the faith-based organization, law enforcement agency liaison, info@faithandblue.org, and any local sponsors.

ACTIVITY 22: COMMUNITY POLICING PROJECT

Short Overview

A community council is designed to offer community members a way to work with law enforcement to promote the well-being of the community. It is a voluntary organization set up by people and run by local residents to act on behalf of the community. For National Faith & Blue Weekend, the activity can be the formation of the Community Policing Council.

Resources Needed

It is recommended that a minimum of five or more people from the community and law enforcement who express interest in creating or participating are identified before forming a council. An agenda, mission, and meeting minutes will need to be created to guide the council on achieving its goals.

Law Enforcement and Community Council Responsibilities

Community councils are as unique as the areas they cover, so their approach to consultations and response may vary. Each planning law enforcement representative or zone liaison should make a point of gaining a good working knowledge of any community councils in its area. Its liaison procedures should acknowledge local variations and be tailored to the characteristics of the local areas. Careful listening and discussion in advance will help law enforcement devise effective consultative arrangements with which those involved can collaborate and affect change. Occasional meetings between local law enforcement and community councils are recommended to keep these arrangements active.

If community councils are to find, coordinate, and express the views of the local community, both the community and the community council will need to have ready access to information on law enforcement guidelines and development plans. It is therefore essential that local law enforcement make this information available.

Location Needed

The community council meetings should be held at a location accessible to the public. We also recommend choosing a popular retail or residential area or major streets around a key neighborhood meeting point like a faith-based organization or a community center. Before the meetings, poster and directional signage can be posted indoors, such as in a fellowship hall.

Role for Faith-Based Organization

To designate a member of congregational leadership to speak or greet at meetings and to be a host site for the meetings.

Role for Law Enforcement Agency

To designate a member of department leadership to speak at the kickoff and/or conclusion of the meeting, to serve as an advisor to the community council on law enforcement guidelines, and to encourage members of the council to get engaged and provide feedback to the local law enforcement.

How to Create Connections

Connections can be created through respectful interaction and informal and formal exchange of ideas and knowledge. Acknowledgment of the parties' perspectives is also an important way to create connections. Each community council should appoint one person as their point of contact for the local law enforcement on all planning matters, provide contact information, and inform the local law enforcement of community concerns and needs accordingly. A useful way of ensuring that no information is lost during absence could be to set up a generic email account that can be accessed by other office bearers in the community council. Internal arrangements for considering applications will be for each community council to decide. A regular contact person in the local law enforcement should also be clearly identified for each community council. This will usually be a community liaison zone officer for the area concerned.

Planning Timeline — minimum seven days from event date

- ☐ Step 1: Identify a community activity where sign-ups can be collected.
- ☐ Step 2: Identify local law enforcement point of contact (e.g., community liaison).
- ☐ Step 3: Develop an organization framework or list of opportunities to improve or repair specific to your local community.
- ☐ Step 4: Work with law enforcement to make an introduction to the appropriate officer.
- ☐ Step 5: Host a call with that designated officer to discuss the council needs and logistics.
- ☐ Step 6: Work with the faith-based organization and law enforcement agency to send an email and post on social media to members about the event and the call to join the council; have the religious leader announce the call to join the council at a religious service.
- ☐ Step 7: Identify an opening and closing speaker from law enforcement and from a faith-based organization.
- ☐ Step 8: Identify the space and time for sign-up. We recommend this be done in advance.
- ☐ Step 9: Hold event (see Day of Steps below).
- ☐ Step 10: Compile contact information from attendees and send thank you notes to attendees, speakers, vendors, and anyone else involved.

Day of Steps

- ☐ Step 1: Arrive at a faith-based organization an hour in advance.
- ☐ Step 2: Ask to make or that an announcement is made of the opportunity to sign up.
- ☐ Step 3: Set up sign-up station with “Community Council” sign-up signage.
- ☐ Step 4: If using electronic sign-up, have a paper sign-up sheet as backup in case of an internet outage.
- ☐ Step 5: Capture name, phone, and email on the sign-up sheet.
- ☐ Step 6: Have someone attend to the sign-up for the full duration of the event.
- ☐ Step 7: Collect sign-ups at the end of the activity.
- ☐ Step 8: Within three days, send an email or call the interested parties to introduce, share the mission, and inform of the first meeting.
- ☐ Step 9: Connect with local law enforcement and a faith-based organization to coordinate first and future Community Council meeting.
- ☐ Step 10: Set up a meeting invitation and send it to local law enforcement, faith-based organization point of contact, and interested members of the newly formed Community Council.
- ☐ Step 11: Send photos with descriptions/captions to your partners, including community organizations, the faith-based organization, law enforcement agency liaison, info@faithandblue.org, and any local sponsors.

WHAT'S NEXT: CREATING A CAMPAIGN

National Faith & Blue Weekend is most impactful when it leads to a series of engagements throughout the year. One way to take its spirit of deepening engagement between officers and residents to transform communities is to create a campaign. Here are the core steps:

1). Form a Team

At the heart of a campaign is the creation of a team of stakeholders who will work together. These stakeholders can include representatives from faith-based organizations, community groups, businesses, neighborhood associations, other government agencies, and law enforcement agencies. A successful campaign can take a year — and lead into the next Faith & Blue.

2). Announcement and Message

This is the point at which public awareness is raised about the initiation of a campaign. The announcement should be made jointly by members of the team and engage members of the media to learn about the importance of residents and officers understanding each other's perspectives better. It should also feature a theme and a few key talking points.

3). Communication

A communication calendar should be designed in advance. Look to issue at least a weekly general message through your channels, including social and traditional media. You should also identify dates, such as MLK Day, July 4th, Black History Month, etc., to issue messaging that relates to the theme of the day/month.

4). Events

Consider holding a quarterly event each year to create movement and progress, using the ideas in this toolkit. They should be interspersed with small events, like those listed in quick activities, taking place at least once a month.

5). Materials

Flyers, trifold, and signs are important for getting the word out and demonstrating commitment to safer and more inclusive communities. Your theme should be present in all your materials, with a URL for your agency's website. Consider a short URL for your campaign that you can feature everywhere, and use a simple website builder.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is the purpose of the National Faith & Blue Weekend?

The purpose of National Faith & Blue Weekend is to create safer and stronger communities by connecting law enforcement officers and the residents they protect and serve. National Faith & Blue Weekend consists of events that will occur in communities of every kind and will include a wide array of activities such as picnics, athletic events, forums, and community service projects. All activities will be designed to facilitate law enforcement officers and the public getting to know one another and to build mutual understanding.

Who can participate in National Faith & Blue Weekend?

Anyone! The National Faith & Blue Weekend website provides resources including posters and postcards, contact information, and sign-up forms. You can register to host your activity or find an event that is occurring nearby.

For participants, our goal is to create safer and stronger communities by connecting law enforcement officers and the residents they protect and serve. Some residents may be skeptical or not understand what the event entails, and so they may not attend; however, we have found that a lot of people who have never met with law enforcement feel more comfortable attending when they can see their friends and neighbors having fun, and they can see what the event was all about.

Are activities going to require you to participate in religious activities?

No. At their core, all Faith & Blue events will be designed to facilitate connections between the public and law enforcement rather than engage in religious activities.

Is there funding available to organize an activity?

There will be a limited number of sponsorships for event costs and for boosting social media posts. For more information on funding, contact info@faithandblue.org.

When can I sign up for an activity?

You can sign up to host an activity at faithandblue.org until the day before National Faith & Blue Weekend starts.

How can I find a nearby event?

The website (faithandblue.org) allows you to search for an event by location and type of event.

Do I have to do one of the 25 activities? Can I design my own?

Of course, you can design your own! We welcome creativity! We do ask that custom activities follow the key principles: It (1) involves both a faith-based organization and a law enforcement agency, (2) is positive, and, (3) is open to the general public.

Why do I need to have a photographer at my event? Won't that be expensive?

Photographers do not have to be professional! You can appoint a congregant or a community volunteer with a smartphone, such as iPhone or Android, to take photos. It is important to capture the fun people are having, as well as photos of the activities so that you can use them to attract community members to future events.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Why do I need to have a photographer at my event? Won't that be expensive? (continued)

We suggest that at least one person — if not more, depending on how many events are going on and how long the event is — is given specific shots to take, then asked to take any others he/she thinks would be fun for posting on your website or on social media. Managing expectations on what photos you want will make the organizer and the photographer more comfortable and the result a success.

Of course, you are welcome to hire a professional photographer. You may want to ask your congregation or community group to see if you have a professional photographer who would do the event for free or for a reduced price, especially if they receive credit for their donation/discount when the photos are posted. If virtual, remember to have someone take screenshots.

What should participating law enforcement officers wear to our events?

Our experience has shown that community members, especially youth, are more comfortable mingling with officers and talking when the officers are out of uniform. This has also been pointed out consistently in community outreach listening sessions.

Therefore, we suggest officers wear casual clothing, yet still be identified as an officer, so that community members can see they are attending and know who to approach if they want to talk or ask questions. Examples of this casual wear include (a) a polo/golf shirt with your law enforcement logo, (b) a special T-shirt designed for the event, or (c) the same solid color T-shirt with no markings. You can also wear a bandana or billed cap with your logo to identify you as an officer. Officer identifications should be at head level, as opposed to a badge at the hip, so that people can identify you more easily.

Some exceptions may include events such as a Law Enforcement Open House or formal talks on a very serious matter such as active shooter training. In these cases, officers may choose to wear their official uniforms at the event.

How do I stay involved after National Faith & Blue Weekend?

We offer an ongoing program called One Congregation One Precinct that utilizes a similar approach to Faith & Blue. You can learn more about this program at <http://onecop.net>. We will also provide new programming following National Faith & Blue Weekend, including quarterly activities and the launch of a network with curated resources and peer-to-peer engagement. You can stay informed about these offerings by joining our email list at <http://faithandblue.org/newsletter-sign-up/>.
